

Employment Promotion for International Students “Biwako Career Development Program for International Medical Students”

GUIDELINES FOR STUDENTS

Shiga University of Medical Science (SUMS) has established a program for international students who wish to work in Japan to pursue their careers as medical professionals. In this program, students are supported in developing the skills needed to work in organizations in Japan, and the skill development includes Japanese language skills, career education, and internships.

The "Biwako Career Development Program for International Medical Students" is implemented based on the "Program for Enhancing Employment of International Students" promoted by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT), and this SUMS program for medical students has been approved by the MEXT.

If you are interested, please follow the guidelines below to apply.

1. Purpose of the program

To provide international students of the Graduate School of Medicine, SUMS, with an advantage in finding employment in Japan at companies, universities, or research institutes of their choice by improving their Japanese language skills, understanding of Japanese culture, and understanding of employment practices in Japanese society in accordance with their career perspectives. A certificate will be issued upon completion of the program.

2. Period of the program

April 2023 - March 2024 (standard enrollment period)

3. Courses offered by the program

1) Japanese language skills

(1) Japanese language classes:

30 lessons from beginner, intermediate, and advanced classes (non-regular course)

(2) JLPT Exam Preparation Course: 30 lessons (non-regular course)

2) Career education

(1) Learning from senior international students: 5 classes (non-regular course)

(2) Work-related thinking and skills: 5 classes (non-regular course)

3) Internships

(1) Short-term training at an off-campus research institute: 4 weeks including pre- and post-training

*NCD Epidemiology Leader Course → counts as regular course,

Non-NCD Epidemiology Leader Course → non-regular course

(2) Training in health-related industries: 4 weeks including pre- and post-training

*only for NCD Epidemiology Leader Course students → counts as regular course

4. Number of applicants

Approximately 5 students

5. Application Requirements

Applicants must meet all of the following requirements.

- 1) Those who wish to work in Japan, such as at a Japanese company or a university research institute
- 2) Those who are international students of the Graduate School of Medicine, SUMS, and in their first to third year of a doctoral program or in their first year of a master's program.
- 3) Those who can obtain the consent of their supervisors to take courses offered in this program.

6. How to apply

Submit the following documents to the Student Support Section at Student Division.

- 1) "Biwako Career Development Program for International Medical Students" Application Form (Form 1)
- 2) Statement of Purpose (Form 2)
- 3) Letter of Consent from supervisor (Form 3)

7. Submission deadline

Friday, March 24, 2023, 5:00 p.m.

8. Completion requirements

For Completion of the program, the students must complete all courses listed in 3. 1) through 3) above.

* A "Certificate of Completion of the Biwako Career Development Program for International Medical Students" will be issued to those who complete the program.

9. Financial Support

1) JLPT Examination Fees

JLPT examination fee (6,500 yen) will be supported for the participants of this program (up to two times per person).

2) MEXT Scholarship for the participants who are privately-financed international students

Privately-financed international students participating in the program may be eligible for the MEXT Scholarship for International Students under the "Program for the Promotion of Acceptance of International Students."

Monthly stipend: 48,000 yen

Grant period: In principle, 1 year (from April to March of the following year)

Conditions:

- a. Those who have a grade point average of 2.30 or higher in the previous year and expect to maintain this level during the scholarship period.
- b. Those who are willing to cooperate in the investigation of their career status conducted by the Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO) after receiving the scholarship.
- c. Those who receive a monthly remittance of 90,000 yen or less on average.
- d. If the student has dependents living in Japan, their annual income must be less than 5 million yen.
- e. The applicant must not be a recipient of a scholarship that is restricted from being paid together with this scholarship.

3) Support for internship participation expenses

In principle, the program covers the costs of participation in the internship program, such as transportation and accommodation.